States Which It Is Foreseen Will Precipitate a Many Sided Conflict in the Far East.

Paris, Nov. 12 .- The Gaulois this afternoon, after referring to the Philippine question as presenting serious complications, says the thing to be faced is no longer a renewal of conflict between America and Spain owing to a rupture of negotiations, but a general European conflict. The Fashoda incident is only a prologue to a big drama which is soon to occupy the theater of international politics, and on reading the papers of Berlin, London and Madrid one feels that something uncomfortable is in the air.

"Spain knows that resistance upon her part, isolated as she is, would give no chance of success and she is looking for a friend in Europe. Before Fashoda any such search would have been useless, but now England is The Next Meeting of the Peace Comanxious to satisfy her ambition in the far east."

Continuing, the Gaulois asserts that Great Britain is trying to bring about an offensive and defensive alliance with the United States, of which alliance, according to the Gaulois, Great Britain would reap benefit. The Gaulois then says: "Her programme is the following: She will induce the United States to refuse any concession to Spain and to refuse coaling stations in the Philippine islands to Russia and Germany. A conflict breaks out. England, as America's ally, interveres, which forces other powers having interests in the east to take up arms. The question becomes no longer that of the Philippines, but that of China, and finally a European London, Nov. 12 .- During the pase week the United States has occupied the attention of Europe to a greater degree than at any time since the battles at Santiago. The entry of the American republic into the arena of eastern colonization has attracted a widespread and varied attention, and never before have the phases and issues of an American election been so generally and eagerly canvassed and so intelligently commented on.

The supposed endorsement of the so-called expansion idea by the electors of the United States has commanded a chorus of approval in Great Britain, while the journalistic spokesmen in France, Russia and Germany exhibit an equal unanimity of disapproval.

The fish are of "tinker" variety, about six inches in length, and can be caught in great numbers from the harbor wharves. The Spanish commissioners are still busy in the preparation of documents which they will submit at the next session of the commission, and it is understood we presentation will cover matters which ender their careful preparation unusually important. Some of the original papers and transcripts necessary for the next presentation of Spain's case will probably not arrive here until too late on Monday to permit of a meeting that day, which, of course, would necessitate the postponement of the next meeting of the mmissioners until Tuesday. The health of Judge Day, president of the American commission, was much improved this morning.
